TechPower has maintained an unmatched service and support center since 1994. We have built our service and support philosophy around three principles: First, we alleviate the burden associated with defective products and returns. Second, we customize a value-added service program for you. Finally, we provide knowledgeable and responsive customer service, and the most flexible and accommodating return policy in the industry. Whether your defective product was purchased from us or not, TechPower will facilitate the products replacement or repair.
